THE ROSE

THE one flower loved by all the universe and whose name is common to all people. Whether found around the humble cottage or in the gardens of a great mansion, it is always "The Queen of Flowers."

The Roses we offer are all low budded on Rosa Multiflora stock; grown in America for American Gardens and they are of the highest quality and vigor. In order to have good Roses a thorough preparation of the beds is essential. Spade the ground at least two feet deep and mix with it one-third of well-rotted Cow Manure. If possible, prepare the beds some time in advance of planting.

While they prefer somewhat heavy soil, they will do well in lighter kinds if additional food is supplied in the shape of artificial fertilizers. Roses like plenty of water, but cannot stand soggy or wet ground, and care must be taken to have the soil well drained.

Plant Hybrid Teas 18 inches apart and Hybrid Perpetuals 24 inches apart.

Careful planting is imperative. Dig the holes large enough to allow for the spreading of all roots and plant them deep enough so as to have the graft two to three inches in the ground. Many people plant Roses too high.

They can be planted in Fall or early Spring. Fall planting is strongly recommended and will be found very successful if the following rules are observed. Plant them as deep as indicated and do not cut them back until following Spring. Protect them by banking them with earth 8 to 10 inches high and, if necessary, cover them with evergreen boughs.

During the summer continuous cultivation of the soil to a depth of from 2 to 3 inches will help them materially. Additional fertilizers during the growing season in the shape of bone meal, etc., is very beneficial.

For Rose Bugs spray with Bordeaux Mixture, and for Aphis with a weak solution of soap and nicotine.

We make a specialty of Roses and Rose Gardens and will gladly submit a complete list arranged for color effects, also estimates as well as plans, for any size garden.
